Sarimah Ibrahim is of Irish Malay heritage, a native bilingual English and Malay speaking international screen actor and television broadcaster known for winning the Malaysian Emmy equivalent of "Best Breakthrough Artist of the Year".

Her performing skill set includes accents in general American, English, Irish and Australian and Sarimah has recently been cast as the lead actress in LELAKI ITU, a Dynasty-like television drama series, of which she stars in 30 episodes. She features in the hit psychological thriller series RIOT! (Astro), a series similar to LIAR (ITV/SundanceTV).

Passionate about perfecting the craft of screen acting, she is training with renowned instructors including the distinguished Mel Churcher, who also coached Michelle Yeoh.

Sarimah is trained personally by fellow Irish-born Gerry Grennell, the go-to guru for actors like Tom Cruise, Meryl Streep, Anne Hathaway and Paul Mescal. She has also worked with Joseph Pearlman.

Her talents extend far beyond acting and like her role model Michelle Yeoh, Sarimah is a martial artist with a black belt in Karate.

She is a talented singer and has released an album with EMI.
